Band Bio

"BARGAIN® is the most requested Who Tribute band in North America. Revered nationwide for performing Who songs and entire albums (such as Live at Leeds) exactly as they were originally recorded, Bargain recreates The Who like few others can. Bargain performs in full costume, complete with on-stage theatrics that are trademarks of Who concerts.

Fans can expect to hear such legendary tracks as "Pinball Wizard", "Behind Blue Eyes", and "My Generation", along with timeless rock anthems such as "Won't Get Fooled Again" and "Baba O Riley (aka "Teenage Wasteland"). The show also includes rock radio favorites "Who Are You", "Squeeze Box", "See Me, Feel Me" and the always-popular "Eminence Front".

Bargain was formed in 2004 in New Jersey and tours nationally, performing at theaters, festivals, private events and local concert venues across the country. The band is comprised of Rich Denninger as Keith Moon (Drums), Martin Beck as John Entwistle (Bass), Aaron Howard Kipness as Pete Townshend (Guitar), and Roger Debonis as Roger Daltrey (Vocals).
